GOVERNMENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO
MINISTRY OF PUBLIC UTILITIES
PUBLIC STATEMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT PRINTERY 2015
ANNUAL STATEMENT ON THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT (FOIA) 1999

In compliance with Section 7, 8 and 9 of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 1999, the Ministry of Public Utilities is required to publish annual statements on the Government Printery for the benefit of the public.

The Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 1999, was assented to on November 4, 1999 and came into full effect on August 30, 2001 to “give members of the public a general right, with exceptions, of access to official documents of public authorities and for matters related thereto”.

The Act provides members of the public with:

1. A legal right for each person to access information held by the Government Printer;
2. A legal right for each person to have official information relating to him/her amended where it is incomplete, incorrect or misleading;
3. A legal right to obtain reasons for adverse decisions made regarding applicant’s request for information under the FOIA; and
4. A legal right to complain to the Ombudsman and to apply to the High Court for Judicial Review to challenge adverse decisions made under the FOIA.

Section 7 Statements

Section 7 (1) (a) (i)

Function and Structure of the Government Printery

The Government Printery’s primary function is the printing of official government documents that are required by law including the Hansard, Trinidad and Tobago Gazette, Acts of Parliament, Bills, Legal Notices, Annual Budget, documents of sensitive national security/trade concerns and official government forms. The Printery is also responsible for the printing and/or binding of books, forms and other documents to be used by the Parliament, Government Ministries, Department and Divisions. Access to particular government documents such as the Hansard, Trinidad and Tobago Gazette, Acts of Parliament, Bills and Legal Notices is also facilitated by the Government Printery through the sale of these documents to members of the public.

Strategic Vision

The Government Printery as the first choice producer of high quality printed products for and on behalf of the Government of Trinidad and Tobago.

Strategic Mission

To provide the best quality printed and paper conversion services available in Trinidad and Tobago.

Structure

The Government Printery is a Division of the Ministry of Public Utilities and is headed by the Government Printer. The Printery currently has a staff complement of one hundred and forty eight (148) monthly paid and ten (10) daily rated employees.

Functional Units which execute the various functions of the Government Printery are as follows:

(a) Work Control Section

The Work Control Section is the area from which all work originates. The core responsibilities of this area are production recording, costing and estimating, typography and the issuing of job orders. The section is headed by the Work Control Officer who issues instructions for job orders to be prepared and forwarded to the relevant production areas based on the customer's request.

(b) Prepress/Composing Section

The Pre-press or Composing Section is responsible for the formatting and assembly of documents for printing. This section is engaged in composing, letter assembly and other cold type operations which utilize computers and printers which are a part of today's pre-press technology. The section processes work produced by the Work Control Section.

(c) Proof Reading Section

The Proof Reading Section works closely with the Composing Section correcting all work before it is sent for Compositors to process.

(d) Binding Section

The Binding Section is responsible for the binding of various types of government documents and books. These operations are done manually or by machine, and generally utilize three types of binding: letterpress, ledger and wire stitching.

(e) Letter Press Section

The Letter Press Section is responsible for relief type printing which involves printing from a raised surface. This section uses metal plates which are created using the nyloprint process for operations. In addition, the Letterpress Section is responsible for operations such as foil printing, embossing, perforating and numbering of jobs.

(f) Offset Section

The Offset Section is responsible for photolithography (offset printing) printing from a flat surface as compared to letterpress printing which is done from a raised surface. This section utilizes three main processes: computer to film (image setter), stripping and plate making and machine operations. A computer to plate (CTP) machine was added to improve the process.

(g) Office Machinery Branch

The Office Machinery Branch is responsible for the service, repair and maintenance of office machines at the Printery. This section is becoming redundant due to the advances in technology.

(h) Engineering Section

The Engineering Section is responsible for the repairs and maintenance of all machines used in the Printery.

(i) Sales Section

The Sales Section is engaged in the sales of the government publications to the general public and other institutions. This area also provides information regarding various aspects of the laws of Trinidad and Tobago, and seeks to maintain a good relationship with the public as a whole.

1468—Continued

(j) Despatch Section

The Despatch Section is the area which stores and despatches completed jobs to customers.

(k) Stationery Stores Section

The Stationery Stores Section is responsible for the supply of stationery for the Government Printery's internal operations.

(l) Paper Stores Section

The Paper Stores Section stores raw materials used in the production of printed products.

(m) Administration Section

The Administration Section is responsible for both personnel matters and accounting. The staff assigned to the human resource function is responsible for processing leave arrangements and other human resource matters. The accounting staff is responsible for preparing invoice orders for the purchase of items and other internal accounting activities at the Government Printery.

Impact of Functions of the Government Printery on Members of the Public

The services which are provided by the Government Printery facilitate efficient and effective communication and information systems by providing reliable printing, binding and related services for the Government and the public.

Section 7 (1) (a) (iv)

Literature available by subscription

This section is not applicable.

Section 7 (1) (a) (v)

Procedure to be followed when accessing a document from the Government Printery

General Procedure

The Government Printery's policy is to respond to all requests for information, both oral and written. However, in order to exercise rights under the FOIA (for example the right to challenge a decision if the request for information is refused), the applicant must make the request in writing.

The applicant must, therefore, complete the appropriate form (Request for Access to Official Documents) available at the Government Printery and the Ministry of Public Utilities for information that is not readily available to the public.

Section 7 (1) (a) (vi)

Addressing Requests

To facilitate prompt handling of the request, please address the request to the Designated Officer of the Printery. (see Section 7 (1)(a)(vi))

Details in the Request

Applicants should provide details that will allow for ready identification and location of the records that are being requested. If insufficient information is provided, clarification will be sought from the applicant. If the applicants are unsure of how to write their request or what details to include, communicate with the Government Printery's Designated Officer.

Requests not handled under the FOIA

A request under the FOIA will not be processed to the extent that it asks for information which is readily available to the public, either from the Government Printery or from another public authority such as brochures, pamphlets, reports.

Responding to your request

The Government Printery is required to furnish copies of documents only when they are in its possession or can be retrieved from storage. Information stored in the National Archives or other storage centres will be retrieved in order to process the requests.

Furnishing Documents

An applicant is entitled to copies of information the Government Printery has in its possession, custody or power. The Government Printery is required to furnish only one copy of a document. If a legible copy of a document cannot be released, the Government Printery may not attempt to reconstruct it. Instead, it will furnish the best copy possible and note its quality in its reply.

Please note the Government Printery is not compelled to do the following:

- Create new documents; or
- Perform research for the applicant.

Time LimitsGeneral

The FOIA sets a time limit of thirty (30) calendar days for determination of a request for access to documents. The Government Printery is required to grant the request for access to information as soon as practicable but no later than 30 days as required by Section 15 of the FOIA. If a decision is taken to grant access to the information requested, the applicant will be permitted to inspect the documents and/or be provided with copies.

Time Allowed

Should the Government Printery fail to meet this deadline, the FOIA gives the applicant the right to proceed as though the request has been denied. The Government Printery will diligently seek to comply with the time limit. If it appears that processing the request may take longer than the statutory limit, the Government Printery would acknowledge the request and advise the applicant of its status. Since there is a possibility that requests may be incorrectly addressed or misdirected, the applicant may wish to call or write to confirm that the Government Printery has received the request and to ascertain its status.

Fees and Charges

Section 17(1) stipulates that no fee shall be charged by a public authority for the making of a request for access to an official document. However, where access to an official document is to be given in the form of printed copies or copies in some other form, such as on a tape, disk, film or other material, the applicant will be required to pay the prescribed fee incurred for duplication of the said material. Similarly, where documents in the public domain are made available to a member of the public, the Government Printery may charge duplication fees in accordance with its normal replication policy.

Section 7 (1) (a) (vi)
